

Praying for Children - Karakia Mo Ngā Tamariki

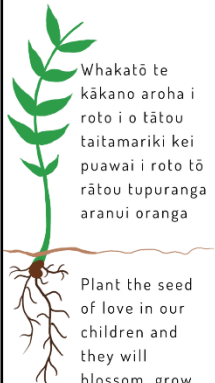

Sowing seeds of love

2- 8 August 2020

We invite you this week to use the resources of the 'Praying for Children' initiative to make space, look around, and ask some questions like 'What would it take to include children who may be a bit different, or have particular challenges? How can we be better?'

Praying for Children
Karakia Mo Ngā Tamariki

2 - 8 AUGUST '20

Whakatō te kākano aroha i roto i o tātou taitamariki kei puawai i roto tō rātou tupuranga aranui oranga

Plant the seed of love in our children and they will blossom, grow and journey towards the greatest pathway of life.

BOOKMARKS

'On the back of the bookmark are a list of phrases, one for each day- to insert into the simple prayer and give a focus to your prayer for that day.

For an inspiring daily post go to Rev Roxy Gahegan's blog link <https://prayingforchildren2020.wordpress.com/blog-2/>

For the power point and other resources go to www.pcfm.org.nz

We encourage you to make these available to your whole congregation, also think about posting the blog link and daily prayers on your facebook page and other social media.

POWER POINT and STORIES for prayer and action.

Praying for children
Karakia Mo Ngā Tamariki

2-8 August 2020

The 7 daily phrases are highlighted in the PPT with a story to go with each. Depending on your time and context, choose some of the stories below when sharing the PPT on Sunday 2 August, to introduce the week's prayer focus.

Make the bookmarks available before or after the power point.

STORIES

MAKE SPACE

Many churches have already thought carefully about a physical space for children in the Sunday worship. The Children & Families team recommend a suitable space at or near the front where children can see, hear and participate more easily. One church who did this recently noticed a boy who usually sat with Grandma near the back joining in for the first time. Two other children had physical difficulties. When the children were asked what they liked, they said they 'felt safe.'

Often a kids' area in a back corner of the church can give the unspoken message that 'worship isn't for children, just keep them quiet and entertained until they go out', but Jesus said: 'Let the children come to me and do not hinder them.' What SPACE (physical and invitational) is being made in your church for children to participate?

LOOK AROUND

Take a walk this week around your neighbourhood and notice: How many children live in your street? What are families up to? Where is your nearest primary school or early childhood centre? Where else do you notice children e.g. at parks, playgrounds, the supermarket and shopping areas? How well are children with physical difficulties catered for e.g signs and access?

As you walk, pray for the children and the families you see, plus those you don't see but you know that they are there.

What might God want you to notice?

WHAT WOULD IT TAKE?

Family Works Otago run a Growing Taller programme for children, many of whom have difficulty managing their emotions. Our facilitators talk about the importance of adults taking the time to talk positively with and about children.

A child said "When I got in the car and you (the parent) said I'm really pleased to see you, I just about jumped out of my car seat."

When asked "What would you like people to say about you?", the children responded that they would like to hear that they are kind, caring and they have good ideas.

What would it take? Examples of kind words.... I think about you when we're apart, my world is better with you in it, you make me smile.

HOW DOES IT FEEL?

A girl with Down Syndrome invited 15 people to her birthday party. Sadly, she never received any invitations to their parties. It is so important to be included. Yes, it is hard work sometimes - there might be behavioural issues/difficulties.

Ask the parents of the child how to navigate these difficulties. The parents might need to be there for a while to ensure that their child is ok. Parents get hurt as much as the children do. They want to make sure their child is ok and not left at the back of the hall by themselves. They have to know that they can 'trust'.

Think about what it is like for someone with a learning disability. Make sure at church or at a party or in a playground there are signs that are easy to read, good pictorials, and think about what it is like for someone living with a learning disability.

It's not easy But...

CELEBRATE!

Many churches include celebrations or 'God moments' in a sharing time in church - often with a lolly or a chocolate jar! In one large church, people of all ages come to the front to share into the microphone before a group prayer or blessing. This could take quite a while some weeks, and a question came up at one staff meeting: 'Was there some way to filter out the less important celebrations like a win at soccer or losing a tooth because those children are probably just coming up to get a chocolate anyway! A robust discussion followed!

It was a good time to review the practical details of that slot in the service but the church leaders were able to affirm again the importance of this all-age celebration time. As someone said, 'In the eyes of the 5 year old, their lost tooth WAS as important as the 90 year old birthday.'

How do we include children in our faith community celebrations?

Can children show us something more about celebrating the simple joys of life?

LET'S BOTHER TO

By taking the time to learn to care, the gifts of engagement are often far greater than any difficulties.

At the beginning of the Level 4 lockdown, a single mother needed to go to the supermarket and there was no one to look after her special needs daughter, so she had to take her along. It was during the days of only one person being allowed into the supermarket at a time. The supermarket wouldn't let the mother take her child in with her.

Another woman in the queue offered to sit with the child in the car so that the mother could do the shopping. This woman willingly gave up her place in the queue to help someone else: there was generosity of recognising there was a need. The mother was willing to trust this stranger with her daughter. The mother knew her child was safe and that she was able to buy food for them.

LET'S BE BETTER

As Christians, God calls us to 'be better'. Jesus certainly had plenty to say about the way people behaved towards one another and challenged people to 'do better'. On more than one occasion, he used a child to help illustrate his point. Do you remember this story, which has been recorded 3 times in the gospels of Matthew, Mark and Luke? Let's listen again...

One day, the disciples were arguing with each other about who was the best. Who could run the fastest? Who did Jesus like most? Who got the most important jobs? Who was the smartest? We don't know for sure what they were arguing about - we can only guess.

Then Jesus called them over to him and asked what they had been talking about....they looked at the floor and said nothing. So Jesus decided it was time for a lesson. He told them that if they really wanted to be the greatest, they had to learn how to be gentle, humble and kind. They had to remember how to be open, curious and keen to learn. They had to unlearn judging others by the way they look and instead learn to embrace those who are often overlooked. And to show them what he meant, he called a child over and wrapped his arms around the little one and said "Whoever welcomes one such child in my name welcomes me..."

OTHER RESOURCES

Rev Roxy Gahegan, has created a wonderful and insightful blog to accompany each of the daily themes. We encourage you to make this available for your whole congregation, both young and old. The link is <https://prayingforchildren2020.wordpress.com/blog-2/>

For the powerpoint and other resources go to www.pcfm.org.nz

Music

Hey Stranger "Just hear me, just see me... let me know that I am truly worthy." We can all do our part to help children belong and be safe. This music video puts the spotlight on Family Violence. Every child deserves to feel safe in their own home yet family violence is in every community. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=tJjOjsiuY5U>

The Blessing Kids The blessing song based on Numbers took off around the world during Covid-19. This version is sung by children from around the world, including NZ. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uiWZXLsdE9w>

Follow up idea to this video: Teach some sign language – to include people of all ages who are hearing impaired. Start with simple words like Lord, Bless, Family, and Amen, and use them in any worship song.

Creating Welcoming Churches

A disability resource for faith communities produced by the Disability, Spirituality and Faith Network, Aotearoa NZ, 2014.

Full of very helpful Information, A timely challenge to Attitudes and ideas for Action

A hard copy book and also available as an e-book and a PDF

More info

<http://www.dsfnetwork.org/projects/creating-welcoming-churches/>

If you would like further clarification on how you can use these resources, please contact your regional or national Presbyterian Children and Families Ministry team at www.pcfm.org.nz or Anne Overton, the Community Relationship Manager for PSN anne.overton@psn.org.nz on ways to support the innovative work PSN is doing with families and children through Family Works and other services <https://www.psn.org.nz/> .

